Compression Socks

We want to remind you about an important requirement for surgery: all patients must wear compression stockings to help prevent circulation-related complications.

Here's what you need to know:

- Compression stockings must cover the full foot and extend below the knee.
- Patients are responsible for purchasing their stockings, as we do not supply them at our surgery center.
- Please wear the stockings on your travel day, keep them on until you arrive home, and come to the surgery center wearing them. This ensures they're in place before your discharge.

Compression stockings are widely available online or at local stores.

If you forget to bring them, your caregiver will need to purchase a pair and bring them to us before your surgery is complete. Thank you for your cooperation in making your recovery as smooth and safe as possible.
